Hello Lizette,
I need some guidance from the TIGS list.

My great grand parents Timothy & Johanna (Halvey) Minahan immigrated to Troy 1889 and resided at 525 First St.

My first question to your list of experts is; does that address still exist? I am coming to Troy (from the Midwest) Sept 19-24 for a wedding and family reunion...to include our Irish Minahan cousins who are coming from Limerick. I'd love to be able to take them to this location if it still stands.

Secondly, a family story is that the Minahan's left Troy for a four year time span to live in Memphis Tenn. I recently have come to think it might have been between 1896 - 1900 that they did live in Memphis. They were back in Troy for the 1900 census. The only way to prove my theory true or not is to find them in Troy somehow between 1896-1900. Are there street directories or any way someone can think of that I could find them (or not) in Troy in that time frame.

Since I'll be in Troy next week, any suggestions any one might have I can put to use while I'm there....many thanks in advance Jeanne Daley >==== NY-TROY-IRISH-GENSOC Mailing List

525 First Street should still be standing. There are City Directories available to you in the Troy Room on the first floor of the Troy Public Library.
I own the 1929 City Directory and here is what I found; Minehan, Johanna widow of Timothy h. 356 First Timothy died Dec 22, 1928

Also living at 356 First was; Helen Murphy and Edward S Evers

Othrow. I believe she was from upstate NY. Her parents were James Gilligan and Elizabeth Duffy Gilligan. She was born in Oct. 1847-1848. Her family eventually moved to Sheboygan Wisc. I would love to find information about the family(ies) when they were in NY.

Hi Listers,

As you may know, Rootsweb has been updating their lists and the TIGS list have been migrated to "Mailman." I tried to keep on top of it, but there has been a few problems with subscribing, unsubscribing, taglines and bounce backs.

I believe I figured out the problem with the taglines and the subscribing/unsubscribing. There has been a few new listers over the past 2 weeks that were subscribed but had a slight problem with receiving mail.

I will repost their "Welcoming Post."

Thanks for your patience, since I just about lost all of mine. And by the way, if you see a short bald women in downtown troy, it is me. I pulled all my hair out.

Hello Jeanne:

Hope you have a nice visit to Troy.

You should read the article Genealogy Research in Troy NY which is on the TIGS website.

Also, the city directories sometimes tell you when an individual left Troy and where they went. I have seen numerous entries that said removed to Albany, removed to New York City, etc. In fact, the listing for a great Aunt of mine, Julie O'Connor Dufty, said removed to Rhode Island.

Regards,

Hi - I'm new to the list so I am not sure if you received a response yet on the status of #525 First Street. I looked it up on the tax records and there is nothing listed for that address. #523 is a double lot though and is owned by the Polish American Club of Rensselaer County, there are dimensions for a building listed ("old style" 2400 sq. ft built in 1890, 5 bd, 1.5 bath, shed, up & down porches) but it is classified as a vacant residential parcel. This property was purchased in 1987 for $7,500.00.

Hi Jeanne,

I believe Kris answered your inquiry, but I just wanted to mention that our monthly TIGS meeting happens to be next week, while you are in town. You are most welcome to attend as a special guest (all our guests are special!).

I know you mentioned family activities while you are in Troy, but just in case...the meeting notice has been posted and can be found on our website.

Sincerely,

Donna

Julia,
Thank you for that info, I would be surprised if it was still standing...we'll probably still do a "drive by" while in Troy as our family lived there for some time before moving to 356 First St. Thank you!

Subject: [NY-TROY-IRISH-GENSOC] The real Annie Moore is found,first person off Ellis Island]

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

Saw this on another list. Fascinating!
Lynn

This is from the New York Times of September 14, 2006, also from September 15, 2006 N.P.R. Morning Edition <http://www.npr.org/templates/story/story.php?storyId=6080581>

Story of the First Through Ellis Island Is Rewritten By SAM ROBERTS

Annie Moore is memorialized by bronze statues in New York Harbor and Ireland and cited in story and song as the first of 12 million immigrants to arrive at Ellis Island. Her story, as it has been recounted for decades, is that she went west with her family to fulfill the American dream – eventually reaching Texas, where she married a descendant of the Irish liberator Daniel O’Connell and then died accidentally under the wheels of a streetcar at the age of 46.

The first part of the myth seems authentic enough.

Hustled ahead of a burly German by her two younger brothers and by an Irish longshoreman who shouted “Ladies first,” one Annie Moore from County Cork set foot on Ellis Island ahead of the other passengers from the steamship Nevada on Jan. 1, 1892, her 15th birthday. She was officially registered by the former private secretary to the secretary of the treasury and was presented with a $10 gold piece by the superintendent of immigration.

“She says she will never part with it, but will always keep it as a pleasant memento of the occasion,” The New York Times reported in describing the ceremonies inaugurating Ellis Island.

As for what happened next, though, history appears to have embraced the wrong Annie Moore.

“It’s a classic go-West-young-woman tale riddled with tragedy,” said Megan Smolenyak Smolenyak, a professional genealogist. “If only it were true.”

In fact, according to Mrs. Smolenyak Smolenyak’s research, the Annie Moore of Ellis Island fame settled on the Lower East Side, married a bakery clerk and had 11 children. She lived a poor immigrant’s life, but her descendants multiplied and many prospered.

The story of the immigrant girl who went west, however, became so commonly accepted that even descendants of the Annie Moore who died in Texas came to believe it. Over the years, several have been invited to participate at ceremonies on Ellis Island and in Ireland.

It took some genealogical detective work to find the proper Annie. After offering a $1,000 reward on the Internet a few months ago for information about Annie Moore, Mrs. Smolenyak Smolenyak teamed up with New York City’s commissioner of records, Brian G. Andersson, and discovered the woman who they have concluded is, in fact, the iconic Annie Moore.

Joined by several of her descendants, they are scheduled to announce the results of their research tomorrow at the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society in Manhattan.

Mrs. Smolenyak Smolenyak (a genealogist’s dream: she’s a Smolenyak married to a previously unrelated Smolenyak) became interested in Annie Moore four years ago while researching a documentary film on immigration. Pursuing the paper trail, she found that the Annie who died instantly when struck by a streetcar near Fort Worth in 1923 was not an immigrant at all but was apparently born in Illinois. Moreover, she traced that Moore family to Texas as early as 1880.

“I realized it was the wrong Annie,” she recalled.

Then, what had happened to the Ellis Island Annie?

Mrs. Smolenyak Smolenyak made little progress for a few years, but her search was reinvigorated this year after she moved to southern New Jersey and visited a genealogical exhibition in Philadelphia featuring a 1910 photograph of the Texas Annie. (The photograph might also have been a model for Jeanne Rynhart's two bronze sculptures, one of which is at Ellis Island.)

She posted a challenge on her blog for information about the immigrant Annie Moore. She also mentioned it to Mr. Andersson, who she knew was very interested in genealogy.

"With the power of the Internet and a handful of history geeks we cracked this baby in six weeks," she said. "Brian found this one document, and we knew we had the right family. We had the smoking gun."

What Mr. Andersson found was the naturalization certificate belonging to Annie's brother Phillip, who arrived with her on the steamship. He was also listed in the 1930 census with a daughter, Anna. They found Anna in the Social Security death index. That identification led to her son, who is Annie Moore's great-nephew.

On her first try, Mrs. Smolenyak Smolenyak was lucky enough to find the great-nephew listed in a directory. "As soon as I said 'Annie Moore,' he knew instantly - 'That's us,' " she said. "They had been overlooked, but they had sort of resigned themselves. I think they're very happy to be found."

Her $1,000 reward is to be split between Mr. Andersson, who is donating it, and Annie's great-niece.

As for Edward P. Wood, a New Jersey plumbing contractor who is descended from the Texas Annie Moore and has been feted on Ellis Island, Mrs. Smolenyak Smolenyak said that when she told him of her findings, he said, "I'm disappointed, but I'm not heartbroken."

The Annie Moore who arrived in steerage and inaugurated Ellis Island initially joined her parents, who had arrived several years earlier, apparently in a five-story brick tenement at 32 Monroe Street in Manhattan. (One of many problems that complicated Mrs. Smolenyak Smolenyak's search, she said, is there is also a 32 Monroe Street in Brooklyn.)

Records indicate that Annie Moore later moved to, among other places, a nearby apartment on New Chambers Street - near the Newsboys' Lodging House and the Third Avenue El on the Bowery.

The area now includes the Alfred E. Smith Houses, a public project constructed in the early 1950's and named for the governor who grew up nearby, and the Knickerbocker Village complex of rental apartments built in the 1930's.

"She had the typical hardscrabble immigrant life," Mrs. Smolenyak Smolenyak said. "She sacrificed herself for future generations."

According to her latest research, Annie's father was a longshoreman. She married a bakery clerk. They had at least 11 children. Five survived to adulthood and three had children of their own. She died of heart failure in 1924 at 47. Her brother Anthony, who arrived with Annie and Philip on the Nevada, died in his 20's in the Bronx and was temporarily buried in potter's field.

Annie lived and died within a few square blocks on the Lower East Side, where some of her descendants lived until just recently. She is buried with 6 of her 11 children (five infants and one who survived to 21) alongside the famous and forgotten in a Queens cemetery.

Her living descendants include great-grandchildren, the great-nephew and the great-niece. One of the descendants is an investment counselor and another a Ph.D.

Mrs. Smolenyak Smolenyak described them as "poster children" for immigrant America, with Irish, Jewish, Italian and Scandinavian surnames. "It's an all-American family," she said. "Annie would have been proud."

So far, this turns out to be one of the few cases in which historical revisionism may have enhanced a legacy instead of subverting it. As one guidebook says: "Annie Moore came to America bearing little more than her dreams; she stayed to help build a country enriched by diversity."

For the local TIGS meeting on Thurs. Sep. 21 (see website for meeting notice; Kris also posted a message to this list):

Please submit agenda items to me, on or off the list, no later than Wed. afternoon 9/20.

Hope to see a good turnout for our "3rd year anniversary" meeting!

I just wanted to mention...when you enter Mosciatello's, turn left, walk through the bar area as far as you can go, and then turn right. You will see us there!

I hope you have a great anniversary meeting. My husband and I really enjoyed meeting the local TIGS folks at the meeting last July. We have returned to our Virginia home after spending a wonderful summer at our lake cottage. I am very appreciative of all the information I receive from listers. It has been very helpful for my own family research. I am amazed at all the hard work and ingenuity you all expend and share! Maybe next summer we can get to more meetings.

Thanks.

As part of my family research here in Ireland, I have recorded many of the surname indexes for the civil parish of Tipperary and many of its surrounding civil parishes. I have indexed all the surnames and their corresponding civil parishes, over 6000 entries, and have the index now online at my website. Gradually, I will get all the civil parishes online, as time permits. So far, I have the Ballygriffin Civil Parish completed and on line.

The civil parish surname indexes include the the number of times the surname was found in the Griffith's Valuation plus if it was found in the Tithe Applotments. I have also included the years both were accomplished for the civil parish.

You can find links to the indexes and the civil parishes at:

This was probably already noted, but the Irish government released a wonderful online map archive about two weeks ago. You can purchase time at roughly $6.40 a day to access the map and it has everything. I've already found the tiny townland of Bellataleen in Mayo where my grandmother was born and the street in Waterford where my great grandfather lived. The level of detail is amazing. Just google Irish Historic Maps and that will take you to the site.

Hello everyone:

I received this message yesterdaY and I thought maybe some of you on the list might be able to help. See below:

Dear J Keefe,

I'm working on a biography of John Morrissey and I'm trying to find out why his family came to Troy in the 1830s when they emigrated from Ireland.

Professor Bruce Elliott, who studied Protestant emigration from Tipperary to Canada in his book Irish Migrants in the Canadas, found that often families went to places where others they knew had gone before them.

Are you aware of any persons from the Templemore area who came to Troy prior to the arrival of John Morrissey's parents?

Thank you,

Bob Monroe

Hi Listers,

Does anyone have any feedback on the Cobh Heritage Centre in Queenstown Ireland? I just found an ancestor on the ship "City of Brussels" out of Queensland Ireland in 1871 and was thinking about Cobh Heritage Centre doing some research for me. It cost $40 and I was wondering what could I expect.

I appreciate any input.

I recently sent this link to someone privately and realized that it might be of interest to list members whose Irish ancestors came to the United States through Canada. The link takes you to the 1832 Emigrants Handbook for Arrivals at Quebec which is full of information and advice for those arriving from Ireland. I found it fascinating since this is the time period in which my CAREY ancestors arrived in Quebec.

Enjoy!

Hi Lizette,

My wife and I just returned from Ireland on Thursday evening the 21st.

We did not go to Cobh on this trip but we did visit in 2001 and again in 2002. Although I have not used their service, the site itself is lovely and somewhat emotional as you begin to realize the sacrifices the emigrants made to leave their native land. The personnel were very gracious and intensely interested in their work. If that is any indication of the thoroughness of the research service it should be well worth the 40 dollars.

Ed,

Thank you for your input. I know it is only $40 but I like to be wise with my genealogy $$$.

What kind of records do they have? I have a name, year of birth (1847) and county of birth (County Cavan). Do you think they have the records to find out the town/parish where my ancestor came from?

It must have been great to go to Ireland! I have never been, but want to go next year.

Subject: [NY-TROY-IRISH-GENSOC] McManus family in Troy/Albany about 1850

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

The following message about Troy immigrants was posted today on the Leitrim-Roscommon bulletin board at www.leitrim-roscommon.com, where anyone can reply to it. I would be interested in any information about the Behan connection since there were Behans who intermarried with my Dunns in Kildare. My gggrandfather Michael Dunn arrived in Troy in the late 1850s.

Thanks, Mary Lee

Sun Sep 24, 2006 4:54 pm Post subject: Hard-luck McManus family, from Boyle to Albany, NY

Does anyone know this McManus branch? They seem to have had an unusual story for their time and circumstances: riches to rags. According to the Boyle parish register and family info, my ggg grandparents James McManus and Bridget McDermott had Thomas (b. 1827), Winifred (1829), Catherine (1833), James (1834), Mary Ann (1836), and Eliza (1839). They were related to the Tighes. Family info also says the father was a schoolmaster and they left in 1839 (before the famine!?!?), stopped first in Montreal, then Lachine, and possibly northern NY, and ended up around 1850 in Troy/Albany, NY. Of that I've been able to confirm only their arrival in Troy.

Thomas married Isabella Montague and became wealthy with his own Hudson River shipping firm, but lost everything and died in a charity hospital. Winifred married the liquor dealer Thomas Behan and did well, but Catherine married Laurence Grattan and died young, Eliza married Alexander McDonald and they both died young, James died in a charity hospital too, and my gg grandmother, Mary Ann, married another liquor dealer named Robert McDonald, who also lost everything -- and in 1876 she shot and killed him.

Any information about them, and the likelihood of their emigration before the famine, would be appreciated.

I have not used their services but the examples we saw of data were very good.

Kathy and I visited Ireland in 2004 and stayed in a thatched cottage in Mitchellstown (30 miles north of Cork). We spent a charming day in Cobh and their museum. Over 2 million Irish people left Cobh for America. The Titanic made its last stop there in 1912 before its fatal departure for the US.

There are dozens of great pubs right around the museum and there is a Cathedral on top of a hill overlooking the seaport. At the time we visited Cobh I didn't know even the names of my great great grandfathers nor the year they left Ireland. I now have that info though I still don't know what county or town they came from. If I can find where they came from we'll be returning to Ireland and Cobh.

Let me know what they provide you. I don't know if I have enough for them to check but I guess they could at least tell me if any of my relatives came through Cobh.

Good luck,

Mike

Lizette,

Have you checked out their web site? If you don't know where your immigrant came from in Ireland They can't help.

If you know where the immigrant originated they apparently will save you having to travel around several county sources. For example, I found that in Dublin one had to go to each parish to check Baptismal records. I did not find what I was looking for but then I didn't get to all the parishes.

I contacted a recommended professional genealogist in Dublin several years ago and she wanted US$60.00 to do a "preliminary evaluation". I figured that was about one hour's work and declined the offer.

Hi Lizette!

Jim Denny(Dennehy) from Tucson, whose g-grandparents raised their family on Fifth Avenue in Troy. James Denny was from Lismoyan Townland, Co. Tipperary; he arrived NYC May 1851. James' wife - they married May 1857 in St. Peter's - was Catherine Shinnors from Cooleen Townland, Co. Tipperary. I think she arrived in 1853.

I tried the Cobh Heritage Center and they gave me VERY little information. I obtained marriage records of James' and Catherine's parents and baptismal records of all their children - James, his six siblings and Catherine, her seven siblings. All this from the diocesan family history research centers.

Do you know what county your ancestors are from?

Jim Denny

Have you explored the 10,000 name (Irish AND Non-Irish) Rensselaer County Marriage Index on the Troy Irish Genealogy Website? Go to <http://www.rootsweb.com/~nytigs/> click on PROJECTS and then click on Rensselaer County Marriage Index, Volume 1. Records are for January 1908 to April 1913.

If you find a relative, you can obtain copies of the marriage documents for $5.00 from the Rensselaer County Clerk. The TIGS website has a request form that you can print on your own computer.

Approximately 26 Volunteers are now working on transcribing Vol. 2 which will add ANOTHER 10,000 names to the TIGS website. Vol. 2 covers Rensselaer County Marriages from April 1913 to July 1918.

If you would like to help with this project send an email off list to: seamus@nycap.rr.com
The more volunteers we have the quicker we will finish Vol. 2 of the Index.

Re: Eustace of Troy, New York:

Any comments/information will be appreciated. Thanks,

Ronald Eustice in Minnesota

John Eustace b. 1827 m to Margaret -family in Nelson, Cheshire Cty, NH 1860 census moved to Rutland, VT to work in gas house 1870 Census. Oldest son Alexander b. 1855 in Keene, NH.

Edward Eustace b.1828 m. Mary Living in Rutland, VT with his family 1880. Oldest daughter b. in Ire 1870. Oldest son Alexander b. 1872? in VT.

James Eustace b. 1830's m. Johanna Ahern living in Keene, Cheshire, NH. Oldest son Alexander b. 1863. All children work in Gas works.

Christopher Eustace b. 1819 m. Bridget -family in Nelson, Cheshire Cty NH. Oldest son Alexander b. 1850.

1889 - Alexander Eustace listed in Rutland VT directory - occupation is IRONER.

Bottom line is I think these are all brothers or close cousins. The connection between Cheshire Cty and Rutland VT repeats itself.

1) James' (Johanna) son Alexander marries Julia Foley from Rutland, VT.

2) John (Margaret) and his family move to Rutland VT at the same time Edward and Mary immigrate there.

3) There is an Alexander whose profession is Ironer in Rutland and the Alexander from Troy is an Ironer.

4) And glaringly - all oldest children are named ALEXANDER.

According to info online, John Eustace (in #1) married to Margaret Barnet is from Dublin, she from Cork.

I need to get Alexander Eustace from Troy, NY death cert. Does James know any death dates for his family?

According to the 1930 census, SYLVESTER EUSTACE b. June 22, 1901 in NH (?) married Hortense O'Brien McGlynn (b. Oct. 4, 1907) in abt. 1928. He was a postal clerk and they lived on 14th Street with his parents ALEXANDER and BRIDGET EUSTACE. Sylvester died in 1988 in Troy, and Hortense died August 9, 1995.

Sylvester had a brother, ALBERT EUSTACE who was born in 1896.

Although I have found some discrepancy, I firmly believe ALEXANDER EUSTACE was born in NEW HAMPSHIRE in 1878.

According to the 1900 and 1910 censuses of Troy, NY, ALEXANDER EUSTACE' parents were both born in Ireland. He worked in a collar shop as an ironer and BRIDGET worked as a stitcher in the same collar shop.

In researching all Alexander Eustaces in various censuses, there seem to be several from distinct families, but none can be found as born in or around 1878.

1) Alexander Eustace b. 1855 son of John and Margaret originally from Nelson, Cheshire, NH who moved the family to Rutland, VT.

2) Alexander Eustace b. 1854 in Troy, NY whose father was Christopher b. 1826 in Ireland and his mother was Ann. Alexander's grandfather was James Eustace b. 1784/1791 and grandmother was Jane b. 1790. Siblings were Joseph, Jane and Mary Kay. This family ended up in Elmira, NY and were the lawyers.

3) Alexander Eustace b 1862 a single man in Manhattan, NY. Parents are Alexander and Bridget Eustace.

4) Alexander Eustace b.1844 in NY and lived in DePeyster, NY with his parents George and Jane both born in Ireland.

5) Alexander Eustace married to Annabelle and lives in Cambridge, MA. He is a grocer/peddler.

6) Alexander Eustace b. 1850 in NH. Son of Christopher and Bridget b. 1821 and 1829 respectively. They can be found in the 1900 census of Cheshire, Harrisville, NH. However they appear to have had only one child - a daughter.

7) Alexander Eustace b. 1852 married to Lucy living in Harrisville, NH in 1880 - no children. Possibly person in #6.

8) Alexander C. Eustace b. 1863 in MA - likely the son of James Eustace and Johanna Ahern, Keene, NH - found in 1900 and 1910 census of Keene, NH living there and married to Julia.

What I suspect is that the Alexander that we link to JAMES EUSTACE of TROY, NY may descend from a sibling of Alexander mentioned in #6 whose parents are Christopher and Bridget. Because we know that our Alexander was born in NH, I have to zero in there. I cannot find his birth or location there in 1880. But the brothers of Alexander mentioned in #6 were Michael, Thomas* and Christopher*. I think they may be possible links.

I'm working on it.

* Never married.

Dear Listers,

I just returned from my visit to Troy and followed the advice several of you made...I must say it was fabulous. You know there are times you spend hours tracking down leads only to come up empty handed...everything I touched this week turned to gold...the first time!!! I felt my ancestors must be with me!

I looked up the city directories and found the trail my great grandparents made and the residences they had in South Troy. I also found the year they left for Memphis, as it said "removed to Memphis Tenn." I'm sure you all heard the shriek!

I also met the cousin that found me on this website under Minahan /Minehan. It was a nice family reunion!

So thank you again for your advice.

Does this Cobh center have a website you can use to request information on immigration records? I'd like to have that info if anyone has that.

Thanks again!

Jeanne Daley

Hello, I have been researching my family for the past 8 years. Daniel Norton would be my great great grandfather, he was married to Mary Shea. They settled in Green Island and had seven children according to the 1880 census.

Mary E. Norton married Samuel Merritt Carhart. They are my great grandparents. I do not know anything about Mary E. Nortons siblings. Nor the generation before Daniel. Any help would be appreciated. Thank you, Joan

Attention RCHS Bibliophiles!!!

A new "Reading Between the Lines" Book Club begins October 19th!!

"Transforming New York State in the 19th Century"

Join us for four lively evenings of history, debate and some inevitable laughter. This book series explores the enormous changes that took place in 19th century American society and how these transformations played out in upstate New York. In the end, you will know more history than your congress person!

Developed by the New York State Council for the Humanities in collaboration with the CUNY Graduate Center, the "Reading Between the Lines" series was first presented at the New York Public Library.

All sessions will meet at 6:30PM at RCHS, 57 2nd St., Troy. To register contact: Robert Engel at 272-7232 x13 or Kathy Sheehan at x15. The series of four books are available to borrow at RCHS and can be picked up anytime between 9-5 Tuesday through Friday or 12-5 on Saturday. The course is free.

October 19 -- The series opens with a discussion of In Hope of Liberty: Culture, Community, and Protest Among Northern Free Blacks, 1700-1860. This is James and Lois Horton's important treatment of class, race, and culture in the Colonial North.

November 2 -- This session focuses on A Shopkeepers Millennium: Society and Revivals in Rochester, New York, Paul E. Johnson's landmark study of the national, regional, and local impacts of the Second Great Awakening, which began in Western New York.

November 16 -- A discussion of Carol Sheriff's The Artificial River: The Erie Canal and the Paradox of Progress, 1817-1862. This book examines the impact of the Erie Canal on the lives of ordinary people.

December 7 -- The series concludes with Mixed Harvest: The Second Great Transformation in the Rural North, 1870-1930. This is Hal Barron's illuminating study of the transformation of the northern U.S. from an agricultural society to an urban and industrial one.

My gr gr grandparents lived in Troy from about 1830 to 1839. It appears they married at St. Peter's Church; they had, at least 3 children while living there.

We nothing about any siblings (of my gr gr grandparents) who might have come with them from Ireland and who may have stayed in the Troy area, after my gr gr grandparents moved west to Genesee/Wyoming County.

The surnames of my gr gr grandparents are:
ROWAN
COSTELLO

Kristin,

My gr gr grandfather was Denis Rowan; he married Eleanor Costello (we have records that indicate they married at St. Peter's by Father Shanahan) Unfortunately, we know nothing of siblings of Eleanor. We believe that Denis had a brother, John, who appears in the census of Genesee/Wyoming County from 1840 until he died in the 1870's. After my Dennis and Eleanor left Troy, they, too, lived in Genesee/Wyoming County from 1840 until Denis' death in 1892.

We, also, do not know the parents of Denis or Eleanor.

Denis was born about 1799/Eleanor was born about 1810 They are buried at St. Mary's Cemetery in East Arcade, Wyoming County, New York Each of their tombstones read "Limerick, Ireland".

Thank you for your kind thought, Donna, but perhaps I somehow gave the wrong impression. I merely relayed this to TIGS because the family landed in Troy and Albany and I thought it might help someone else. The McManuses are not my family, though there were some Behans connected with my Dunn line in Kildare and I did not know there were Behans in Troy.

So -- just trying to facilitate connections.

Subject: [NY-TROY-IRISH-GENSOC] St. Peter's Church - Records

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

Around the beginning of May I contacted (e-mail) St. Peter's Church. I heard back from Denise Mahoney. She said they would be happy to help and I forwarded the birth information for 3 of my Rowan kids (a couple were only "abt" years, one was exact date). She also said that the church marriage records (for Dennis Rowan and Eleanor Costello - 1830-1831) begin in 1833; that they wouldn't be able to help me with that.

I don't want to make a pest of myself, so I haven't re-contacted Denise. Also, I know that they probably do these look-ups when time permits.

Has anyone had any experience with actually getting records from St. Peter's? I'm not impatient (after all, we've been researching this family for 20 years!); however, I am wondering if they will ever do the lookup.

Has anyone ever heard of SESSION BOOKS? I've been told that some of the old churches had these; they were used when new people first came to the church and can have some useful genealogical information.

Thank you for any advice you can give me.

Kitty

Have you looked on the marriage index?

Have you explored the 10,000 name (Irish AND Non-Irish) Rensselaer County Marriage Index on the Troy Irish Genealogy Website? Go to <http://www.rootsweb.com/~nytigs/> click on PROJECTS and then click on Rensselaer County Marriage Index, Volume 1. Records are for January 1908 to April 1913.

Kitty,

I'm Jim Denny(Dennehy) from Tucson via Chicago and Buffalo. My g-grandparents - from Lismoynan Townland and Cooleen Townland, Co. Tipperary - were married in St. Peter's Church 17 May 1857 and raised their family at 2715 Fifth Avenue, Troy.

In 2002 I wrote to St. Peter's for marriage, birth and burial records. In about three months I got all of the above, including who else was buried in the two family plots. In my written request, I included a check for #25.00 and said I would be willing to pay additional if they asked; they didn't.

Can I help you further?

Jim

Subject: [NY-TROY-IRISH-GENSOC] St. Peter's Church - Records

Around the beginning of May I contacted (e-mail) St. Peter's Church. I heard back from Denise Mahoney. She said they would be happy to help and I forwarded the birth information for 3 of my Rowan kids (a couple were only "abt" years, one was exact date). She also said that the church marriage records (for Dennis Rowan and Eleanor Costello - 1830-1831) begin in 1833; that they wouldn't be able to help me with that.

I don't want to make a pest of myself, so I haven't re-contacted Denise. Also, I know that they probably do these look-ups when time permits.

Has anyone had any experience with actually getting records from St. Peter's? I'm not impatient (after all, we've been researching this family for 20 years!); however, I am wondering if they will ever do the lookup.

Has anyone ever heard of SESSION BOOKS? I've been told that some of the old churches had these; they were used when new people first came to the church and can have some useful genealogical information.

Thank you for any advice you can give me.

Kitty

When I was an officer at the Troy AOH, there was a very old and revered gentleman who would show up on St Patrick's day for the after-parade festivities and some other events named Costello. I haven't been involved with the AOH, which no longer has a building in Troy, since about 1989 but I would bet Pete Durkee, a Troy City Councilman, may know something about him and if there are any more of his family around.

Wayne,
Ancestry.com has an 1800 census record in Greenbush for a William Simmons.
Household shows:

Males - 1<11yrs, 1 11-15yrs, 1 26-44yrs (father?) Females - 2<11yrs, 1 26-44yrs (mother?)

Unfortunately no other names other than head of household until, I believe, 1850.

Kitty,

Parents names can be on death certificates. Since you have the date of death off the tombstone, you probably can get a copy of the death certificates. Of course the information on the d.c. is only as good as the person supplying it. But it is usually close.

Hello All!

My family search has hit a brick wall in Rensselaer County.

My 4th great grandparents were married in Sand Lake, Rensselaer County, NY in 1815.

Grandfather was born in Troy, NY 1796 and my Grandmother was born in Sand Lake, NY 1797. Below is more information.

I need help to identify their parents. So far, I can not find any information about their parents, not even their names.

If someone within this list could help me break down this wall, I will be very appreciative!

Best Regards,

William married in NY. My mother was born in Troy, but lived in Wilmington, De. When she married she moved to Lewes, DE where my sister and I were born and raised. this William may have been adopted. He was born Jan 1880 and my grandfather was born 12/1880. I've located all 11 of the siblings. Their father was a blockprinter in the linen trade.

There are 3 Simmons heads of household in the 1800 census of Rensselaer Co.

1. William in Greenbush - he has a male under age 10 (very good possibility!!)

2. Briton in Hoosic - also has male under 10 3. Loring in Stephentown - no male under 10
There is no William in 1810 Renss. Co. However there is William H. Simmons in 1820 in Sand Lake. There is a male 45+, a male and female 16-26, plus others. Could this be William Sr. and newly married William Jr. & wife living in the same household? There are at least 9 other other Simmons families living in Sand Lake in 1820, some of which could be siblings or relatives to your William.

I also took a quick look at the Renss. Co. USGenWeb page, and there are many Simmons! The cemetery list had a William H. who died in 1866, age 66 (thus born 1800). Is this William H. the same one who was in Sand Lake 1820?

Need more research to find out. There may be more than 1 William H. Perhaps deeds and probates could lend some more clues.

Good luck,

Rebecca Rector

Hello Mr. Simmons,

You might be able to find out some info on your ancestors by contacting the Sand Lake Historical Society. Their website is <http://hometown.aol.com/sandlakehistory/index.html> There is also an email address you might try for specific information. It is sandlakehistory@aol.com

Sand Lake was not too well populated in the 18th and early 19th century, so there might well be some information on your relatives available.

Good Luck.

Hi Listers,

I like to welcome Mark & Janice to the list. Below please find information on their family research. As Always, any help is greatly appreciated.

My great great grandfather, Patrick Melvin, lived in Troy on 136 Fourth Street. He worked as a shoemaker. He was born in Ireland and passed away on September 14th 1862 at 59 years of age in Troy.

I am going to Ireland in March of 2007 and am trying desperately to find out where Patrick was from in Ireland, so that I can see/visit where I came from, where my roots are.

The Troy Librarian, Larry Kammerer helped with with some info, with exact street addresses and assumed as I had given him the naturalization numbers that I had viewed them and had all info from it. I just had numbers from a very distant relative from contact on the internet. She never saw them either. I sent Larry an email asking to refer any info from the Naturalization records that could help me.

Don't know if you would be able to help me further. But would appreciate anything you could do. I have census references from 1850 Census. Wife Ellen was born in Ireland in approximately 1815, children were born in Troy, John 1834, Ann 1837, Frances 1838, Thomas in 1840, Henry in 1842, Joseph in 1844 and Marie Lillian in 1846. I have Patrick buried in St. Mary's Cemetary in Troy. I have info on both Frances and Thomas being in the Union Army, sadly it's recorded that they both deserted one at Fort Sumpter and the other a few months later after fighting in PA. I found most of the kids living in Brooklyn, NY with their families in the 1880 Census.

anything you could help me with with either Patrick or my great great grandmother Ellen would be appreciated.
